Anyone who thinks that SPF 30 is the only thing going on in Santa Monica, hasn't been to The Broad Stage. This is just a sampling of the eclectic, world-class talent that will be shining this season at our enormously intimate, acoustically astonishing, 499-seat performing arts mecca. You'll see everything from Broadway to the Bard, opera to i-pod jazz. And there's not a bad seat in the house. (Each comes with free parking and ocean breezes.) But first you have to get one. To avoid disappointment, call or go online for tickets now.
