

Boarding at Renaissance Dogs

Thank you for your interest in boarding your dog at Renaissance Dogs. We understand that leaving your dog in the care of others is a big decision, and we intend to live up to your high standards!

About boarding at Renaissance Dogs

- We only board our daycare dogs. Ren Dogs are comfortable and established here and are excited to come and play.
- Boarding dogs participate in daycare; dogs who play all day are less stressed because they work up an appetite and sleep peacefully!
- Rooms and crates are available and assigned based on availability and the comfort of the dog. Dogs sleep in the largest space that we have for them. A dog will never be left somewhere that they are not comfortable.
- Owners live on site with video monitoring of the facility.

What to Bring

- Your dog's food
 - We don't like to change your dog's diet while they stay with us, as we find it can cause some upset stomachs. Please bring enough food to last their entire stay. Refrigerated food is welcomed! Renaissance Dogs does not provide house food. Dogs are separated to eat.
- Medications
 - Any medications your dog is on, including supplements, will be given per your instructions at no charge. Please have medications in a separate place from the food (even if taken with meals) and clearly labeled with the medication name. We like to know what we are giving them!
- Toys, bedding, blankets
 - You are welcome to bring anything from home to make your dog's stay more comfortable. We will provide treat balls, Kongs, nylabones and sterilized bones as well as fleece blankets for their comfort and enjoyment. Dogs are separated to sleep and will not share their items.
