

How to Report Threats to Mather Preserve

Mather’s wetlands and vernal pools are so rare, precious, and sensitive that their critical habitats are protected by a “preserve” designation. Therefore, it is a crime to damage anything within the preserve. Violators are subject to prosecution and fines. Reported activity increases justification to fund additional Ranger patrols and staff.

See something? Say Something! If you witness any of the following activity that could pose a threat to the Mather preserve, then please report it according to the following instructions.
