

Nihilism vs. Nothingness

Nihilism leads to
nothing;
nothingness deals with everything.

Nihilism looks to
collapse and annihilation;
nothingness examines
unfolding and evolution.

Nihilism reduces all
to a point;
nothingness is a
point of departure.

Nihilism is the
end of the line;
nothingness is the beginning of a cycle.

Nihilism is a
pessimistic frame
of mind;
nothingness is an
exciting frame
of reference.

Nihilism is the result of
decadence;
nothingness recognizes
transcendence.

If, therefore,
you are in despair of the
human condition,
you will be on the
closed path
to nihilism;
if, however,
you trust the
power and value of
human consciousness,
you will pursue
the openness
of nothingness.

© Msgr. Walter Niebrzydowski

June 24, 2006

Fr-Walter@nyc.rr.com

www.fatherwaltersparish.org