

I highly recommend Dr. Sanders and his team. After eight months of struggling with vertigo and balance, someone told me about BalanceMD. My visit with him proved very successful with testing and finding nerve damage to my right inner ear to which is no repair. But with balance therapy and re-training the brain , I now can walk without bumping, stumbling, and staggering. I do so appreciate their help and their expertise. All the staff is very friendly and courteous. Thank you so much for helping me restore a good quality of life.
