

Melcheck, Nickolas

Nickolas Melcheck, 88, of Pigeon died Thursday morning, Sept. 6, at Tender Care in Cass City. He was born on Oct. 4, 1912, in Wilpen, Pa. to the late Michael and Kate Melcheck and moved to Huron County in 1923. In 1955 he was united in marriage to Harriet Rawson in Cass City. She preceded him in death in October 1998. Nick was a milk hauler in the Caseville area until he sold the business and joined the Army during World War II. Upon his return to Caseville he turned to farming, which he did until retiring in the early nineties. During the winter of his early farming years, he also worked at General Motors in Saginaw. Surviving is his brother, Charles Melcheck of Pigeon; and two nephews. Preceding him in death are two brothers, Pete in 1978 and Mike in 1998. A private service will be conducted today with burial in the Caseville Township Cemetery. Arrangements by the Champagne Funeral Chapel in Caseville.
