DAY 3: Tuesday, May 12

Cultural & Medical History Tours

Please Note: Breakfast is included daily at your hotel.

After breakfast, the group will depart for a visit to the Tower of London. Learn about 1,000 years of history at this World Heritage Site where they house the Crown Jewels and the famous ravens. Explore the tower and learn about the many infamous prisoners they used to house in the cells and dungeons.

Immediately following, explore the Royal Pharmaceutical Society Museum. Established in 1842, their museum showcases the history of British pharmacy and has many beautifully displayed artifacts. The museum collections cover all aspects of British pharmacy history, from the 1400s up to the present day including early printed books on herbs and early pharmacopoeias dating back to the 1400s.

Lunch will be provided at a local restaurant or pub today.

This afternoon the group will visit the Royal London Hospital Museum which has cared for the community of East London since 1740. Their archives and museum collection document the hospital from its earliest days as well as some of the fascinating nurses and doctors who have worked there. The museum also shares information on key figures including Edith Cavell and Joseph Merrick (the 'Elephant Man').

Dinner is by individual arrangement (own expense).

Overnight: K West Hotel (or similar)

DAY 4: Wednesday, May 13

Continue Explorations

Continue your explorations of the Old Operating Theatre Museum. Your guided visit will include a tour of the facilities and information on the history of the facility. Housed in the attic of the church of old St. Thomas' hospital, this fascinating museum offers unique insight into the history of medicine and surgery. The timber framed Herb Garret was once used to dry and store herbs for medicine.

Next make your way to visit the Gordon Museum of Pathology, whose exhibits have approximately 8,000 pathological specimens in their collection.

Enjoy lunch at a local restaurant this afternoon.

Spend the afternoon visiting St. Bartholomew's Hospital and Museum. Founded in 1123, the hospital provided care on the site in Smithfield for nearly 900 years. Their archives and museum collection include documents from the 12th to 21st centuries among other items. The hospital's long history is brought to life through the permanent exhibition including a variety of art works.

Return to the hotel where dinner is on your own.

For those with the energy you might opt to take in a show this evening at a local theater!

DAY 6: Friday, May 15

Professional & Cultural Program

This morning the group will visit the Chelsea Physic Gardens. Tucked away beside the Thames, Chelsea Physic Garden is the oldest botanic garden in London and houses around 5,000 different medicinal, herbal, edible, and useful plants. The garden's warm micro-climate means that many tender plants flourish here including the largest outdoor fruiting olive tree in Britain and the world's most northerly outdoor grapefruit tree.

Late this morning you will have some free time to shop at Harrods or Harvey Nichols.

Enjoy afternoon tea in a local restaurant.

Continue your professional exchange today during a meeting with nursing and medical historians from the Royal Society of Medicine (or similar). Continue discussions around the healthcare of yesterday compared to that of today as well as a chance to analyze how historical solutions apply to today's issues.

Dinner is by individual arrangement (own expense).

DAY 7: Saturday, May 16

Stonehenge & St. Margaret Parish Church

Depart London today for Stonehenge (approximately a 2 hour drive each way). Your visit includes a chance to walk around the stone circle dating back 4,500 years to learn about the world's best-known prehistoric monument in Europe. Wander around the Neolithic Houses outside the visitor's center to see the tools and objects of everyday life that have been discovered. Time permitting, perhaps visit their little shop to take home a souvenir.

Head to lunch at a local restaurant or pub before stopping to see St. Margaret's Church.

The parish church of St. Margaret of Antioch is a stone structure consecrated in 1215, when granted a charter to hold an annual fair on the eve of St Margaret's Day. The church is famous as the burial site of Florence Nightingale, whose family home was in nearby Embley Park. A formal request has been submitted to visit the Embley House (summer home), now part of a school.

Dinner will be provided at a local restaurant this evening.

DAY 8: Sunday, May 17

Educational Exploration

Today head out to explore The Foundling Museum and Wellcome Collection. The Foundling Museum explores the history of the Foundling Hospital, the UK's first children's charity and first public art gallery. Dating back to the 18th century, they house many treasured objects relating to medical history, but they also have showcased the work of celebrated artists, from William Hogarth and Paula Rego, to Grayson Perry, Tracy Emin and Cornelia Parker. They offer a lively program of concerts, workshops, talks and special events throughout the year.

Continue onward to explore the Wellcome Collection, a free museum and library that "aims to challenge how we all think and feel about health". Through exhibitions, collections, live programming, digital, broadcast and publishing, they create opportunities for people to think deeply about the connections between science, medicine, life and art. Sir Henry Solomon Wellcome (1853-1936) was a pharmacist, entrepreneur, philanthropist and collector during his life.

Lunch will be provided this afternoon.

The afternoon is dedicated to exploring the Museum of the Order of St. John, its crypt and priory church. Explore the unique and fascinating story of an ancient religious military Order, from its origins caring for sick pilgrims in 11th-century Jerusalem, through to its modern-day role with St. John Ambulance, the international first aid charity.

Say goodbye as you reflect and share memories over a farewell dinner at a local restaurant.
