

Hard-hearted You

With, or without, you
The world's going to go on and on and on
And, with or without you,
There's going to be love.

Hard-hearted
Hard-hearted you

You try to act cool,
But you're only cold.
You try to act young,
But you're getting old.
You're always talking
When you should be told,
"You're only half
trying to be whole".

With, or without, you
The world's going to go on and on and on
And, with or without you,
There's going to be love.

Hard-hearted
Hard-hearted you

In this world of the bought and sold,
You're an imitation diamond
Set in solid gold.
If you can't raise or call,
You better fold.
The meek may inherit,
But It's from the bold.

With, or without, you
The world's going to go on and on and on
And, with or without you,
There's going to be love.

Hard-hearted
Hard-hearted you