GUIDING BODY: Can-Am Police-Fire Games Federation, North American Grappling Association (NAGA) NAGA

SPORT DESCRIPTION: All competitors shall submit a medical exam report, signed by a licensed physician and based on a physical completed with-in six months of competition. This sport combines elements of wrestling, Judo, Jiu-jitsu and Sambo. Participants may use takedowns, pins, and submission holds from a variety of martial arts and wins a match by either accumulating more points than their opponent, or by submission of the opponent.

All competitors to weigh in; details to be provided at registration. Competitors must enter their weight division and may also enter the Absolute Class. Each competitor must specify if they are willing to compete in a higher weight division if there are insufficient competitors within their weight division. Each competitor will supply their own clothing and equipment. Grappling attire may consist of a wrestling singlet, bicycle pants and T-shirt, or a martial arts gi. At a minimum a groin protector, mouthpiece, and shorts with a drawstring must be worn, no pockets on the shorts. Protective equipment such as kneepads, earguards and wrestling shoes are optional.

BOUT DURATION: One round of six (6) minutes with one four (4) minute overtime in case of a draw.

BRACKETING: Double Elimination. Each competitor is guaranteed at least two matches depending on the number of competitors in each division. If there is not enough competitors in a division they may be moved up or down in a class to compete. Depending on the number of women competitors, they may be divided into additional classifications. If there limited entries, a round robin type tournament will be used for the matches, with awards still being given by divisions.
