Course: Links at Lighthouse Sound - Blue - Rating 70.1 Slope

Weather: Cloudy Cool 70s

What a great track with beautiful views of the sound from nearly every hole. Probably more marsh on this property than fairway. Mike and Greg tie with net 73s - Greg gets super hot on the back with a net 33. Ed sinks a bomb for a birdie on 18 to tie the birdie pot and make a net eagle. Greg sank a couple of bombs and had 8 nets in the last 11 holes. Bruce had the quote of the day - there is a causeway that is visible from many holes that is over Assawoman Bay (believe it) and he asked if that was the "parkway" - must have been thinking he was still in NJ - to be fair he was jet lagged after coming back from Hawaii on Tuesday so maybe that led to his question???? Ed told Greg that he could punch him in the balls if he left another putt short (he had more than a few) and Greg was ready to oblige when Ed did leave a couple more short. Bruce reinjured his shoulder mid-way through the round and was barely able to finish - we all helped him nurse his injury with Chianti after the round.
