Governor Reeves Recognizes the Sons of the American Revolution

This morning Governor Tate Reeves proclaimed Saturday, March 26, 2022, as Sons of the American Revolution Day in Mississippi. The proclamation recognizes that on March 26, the Society will hold its 113th Annual Convention in Oxford celebrating the anniversary of its first meeting.

“This proclamation – and the spirit of the SAR – serve as a reminder that, while we have come a long way in our efforts through our educational programs, essay contests and promoting historical preservation and patriotism, there is work left to do,” State SAR President Ben Jones of Jackson said. “We urge everyone to educate themselves on the American Revolutionary War and the sacrifices made by those who fought and supported the cause of American Independence—to commit ourselves to those courageous ideals and our patriotic heritage.”

Oxford Mayor Robyn Tannehill has signed a proclamation also in support of Sons of the American Revolution Day.
