Dear [Mr./Ms.] [Last Name],

You have been hand-selected to receive this information as a result of your knowledge, involvement and contributions to the technology industry. As you are very well-aware, the future of technology in today's world is practically limitless, and the ROI potential, as well, is vast.

Decisions about what to invest in are difficult. I've stood in your shoes and pondered those difficult decisions and, like you, I've experienced the victory of a well-chosen investment.

Visionary Thinking Group's expertise is in locating areas and ways to streamline production by developing proprietary products in the polytechnic environment. VTG uses science and technology together to develop ways and means to reduce costs for our clients, while also increasing quality and product performance. In addition, we create future and continual income streams by selling the licenses of these products to global end users.

We have been assisting clients such as the University of California and the Governor's Office of the State of California for over 40 years, and our goals are to continue to build our brand with OEM's including GE, Siemens, Birkshire Hathaway and Medtronic, among others. Our work is concentrated in these industries:

- Medical Devices and Diagnostic Equipment
- Automotive
- Food Service
- Energy/Utility/Security
- Industrial

What will your investment mean to you, you ask? Well, first, with VTG's innovative approach and revolutionary direction already in place, you get to jump on the bandwagon of a travelling coach. You will be actively involved in future projects, we will ask and welcome your input, plus there are royalties to be gained and those royalties are expected to be in the millions for the market share you'd be entitled to.

But, frankly, this opportunity may not be for you. VTG pre-selects potential investors based on their previous successes and contributions to the modern advancement of the Polytechnic Industry, with respect to solutions and applications. Our marketing plans, financial projections and fantastically driven partners will assure an income stream that surely doesn't come with every investment opportunity. We definitely will want to learn more about you, and get your thoughts and input before we would be ready to develop a partnership agreement.

Someone from our office will be contacting you soon to set up a short meeting to see if this is a partnership that could work for both of us. We will welcome your questions and discussion points and, as well, look forward to your ideas to further the success of our ventures.

Very Sincerely,

Steven Sable
