Definition

The federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (Section 1604.11) defines sexual harassment as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when any one of three criteria is met:

- Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment.
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting such individual.
- Such behavior has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment.

Sexual harassment is misconduct that undermines the integrity and quality of the workplace and employment relationships and is unfair to the employee, volunteer or contractor who is subjected to it and their coworkers. All employees, volunteers, and contractors must be allowed to work in an environment free from unsolicited and unwelcome sexual overtones. Sexual harassment hurts morale and interferes with the work productivity of victims, co-workers, and harassers.

The office will provide training and education to employees, volunteers, and contractors to prevent and eliminate sexual harassment in the workplace. Training will also be provided to supervisors and managers on how to handle sexual harassment complaints.

The BOARD OF PILOTAGE COMMISSIONERS does not intend to regulate social interaction or relationships which are consensual, voluntary, and freely entered into by employees or individuals performing business with the office where such relationships do not impact the performance of professional duties.
