

those receiving it to their fullest spiritual growth. I can assure you that this Bread will energize the weak spirited into active messianic collaboration. Until this day, souls have been starving in the surrounding world's spiritual deserts. Through Me, that prevailing deprivation is ended."

Emotionally moved and quasi-convinced by what they thought they understood from Jesus' stirring words, the Bethsaidans reversed themselves once more. Vacillating from moment to moment, guessing where their best interest lay, they pleaded for the Bread Jesus described with one enthusiastic voice:

"Lord, if what You declare is true, feed us always with this Bread from heaven. We beg You with sincere hearts. Give us this new Manna of Yours, and never stop! We never heard of Its existence until now but, from what You describe, this is the Bread we have so long awaited, and we want It desperately."

35. Jesus answered: "Hear Me then and accept what I say on faith and not on your self-interest perceptions! What I reveal to you is of the utmost importance. The Bread I offer, which gives soul-life and sustains it forever, is Myself! Yes, Me, the very One who stands before you and speaks to you in Yahweh's Name; I am this Bread from Heaven! It is a living Bread, because it is My own Person. I am the miraculous Bread of Life!

"Come to Me then, all who hunger!"

Like two love-embracing arms, Jesus' passionate outreach and firm authority opened to draw His audience with welcoming invitation.

"If your souls are starving for the godliness of the Age of Messiah, then feed upon Me! This will I pledge and guarantee. As long as you remain faithful to My Word and feed on Me, your spirits will never undergo starvation or see death. I will completely satisfy your hungering for merciful compassion and bring you to the fullness of life. One thing only is required to receive this Divine Manna: believe in Me unconditionally. Acknowledge Me and My Mission, and then conform your life with My Good News Message.

36. "However, let Me offer a word of counsel. The enthusiasm you expressed until now has been strong in word, but weak in performance. Put an end to vacillation and be convinced. Once
