

Benjamin J. Clor, 80, of Farmington Hills, passed away, Wednesday, Sept. 4, 2013, at Botsford Hospital in Farmington.

He was the beloved husband of Ilene; dear father of Mark (Kim), Steve (LeeAnn), and Sandra (Richard) Uroda, Deidre (Mark) Sawyer, Gwen O'Neil, Mona (Brian) Newcomb and Rachel (Michael) Fasano. He leaves six grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; brother Fabian (Laura), Gerald (the late Pat), Marie (the late Lawrence), Regina (LaVerne) Hanselman, JoAnn (Lewis) Slavick, Patricia Clor, and the late Luke and Gabriel Clor.

There will be a noon Mass at St. Kenneth Church, 14951 N. Haggerty Road in Plymouth (south of 5 Mile).

Visiting will be 3-8 p.m. Friday with evening scripture service at Charles R. Step Funeral Home, 18425 Beech Daly Road (between 6 and 7 Mile). He will be instate from 11:30 a.m. until the noon Mass on Saturday at the church.

Contributions to Parkinson's Association appreciated.