Turning Stone Resort's Crescent Hotel

Situated in Upstate New York, halfway between Albany and Rochester, Turning Stone has it all, it's a massive resort that boasts four hotels, two 3-star hotels called the Inn and the Hotel and two 4-star hotels called the Tower and the Lodge. The new Crescent Hotel scheduled to open later in 2026 will feature 258 upscale rooms and suites, a private entrance, and seamless indoor connections to the restaurants, gaming floor and event venues. Its highlight is Salt Seafood & Raw Bar, a new culinary concept by Turning Stone's award-winning chefs, known for their Forbes Four Star recognition. Located on the hotel's seventh floor, the restaurant will showcase panoramic views, private dining options, and heated outdoor terraces designed for three-season use. Our Sun and Fun Participants will stay in spacious Junior Suites. Whether you're a gambler, golfer, tennis pro or foodie, there's something for you at Turning Stone. The resort features a 120,000-square-foot casino that's stocked with table games, gaming machines, a poker room and Oneida Indian High Stakes Bingo. Of course, if you prefer to be active somewhere other than the blackjack table, hit one of the three championship golf courses (or the nine-hole courses, if you're looking for a quick round). The Sportsplex offers eight tennis courts (four outdoor and four indoor) and two racquetball courts, while the Golf Dome allows you to practice your swing inside. Gastronomes will have a field day at the 19 restaurants and convenience food's locations. The Lodge is home to the fine-dining Wildflowers, and the other 18 are just a quick walk away. After all that action, you'll certainly need to decompress with a spa session. Luckily, Turning Stone features two, including the 33,000-square-foot Skana Spa within the Lodge.

Golf Course Information:

Turning Stone's Atunyote Golf Course

From the Turning Stone website: "The longest of the Turning Stone Resort's three championship courses, at 7,315 yards, this Tom Fazio design was home to the Turning Stone Resort Championship from 2007 – 2010. In 2006 it was the site of both the PGA Professional National Championship and the BC Open." While not located at the immediate resort complex, the Atunyote Golf Club is only 4.5 miles down the road, yet back off the main road (if you can call it that) with no flair or even a sign. You make that turn down the long driveway to an impressive gate. Once stopped at the gate, you press a button to call the Pro Shop, and an attendant opens the gate remotely from there. Very fancy.

Atunyote Golf Course

The Atunyote clubhouse itself is a bit underwhelming from the outside, but once inside, everything changes. From the Dustin Johnson trophy (his first PGA Tour Victory), to the "Players' Lounge" with its fireplace and leather chairs, to the bar & dining area which spills out onto the balcony overlooking the 18th green, the place is just gorgeous. The course conditions are in a word, incredible. The tee boxes are all square and relatively flat. The fairways are all perfectly manicured, as well as the rough. The sand traps were all raked and the sand is in very nice condition. The bunkers are consistent one hole to the next with the soft granular sand on top, with a firm packed layer an inch or two down. The greens are consistent and perfect. Turning Stone refers to Atunyote as a "park like setting" which is a perfect description of how it is laid out. While the rough isn't as penal as the other Turning Stone courses, strategically placed bunkers, creeks and lakes all present a similar challenge.

Turning Stone's Kaluhyat Golf Course

Kaluhyat (the Oneida word for "the other side of the sky") was designed by Robert Trent Jones Jr. and opened in 2003. Course features include dramatic elevation changes measuring as high as 50 feet in some areas, with plateau settings offering seemingly endless, spectacular views of the surrounding terrain. Six lakes throughout the course only add to the picturesque setting. At 7,100 yards, distance off the tee is a bonus, but accuracy is rewarded on this classic shot-maker layout. Signature Holes: # 3, #10 and #17. Come play and you'll understand why Kaluhyat is consistently rated as one of the most challenging layouts in New York State.

Turning Stone's Shenendoah Golf Course

Be among the first to experience Turning Stone's new Shenendoah Golf Course! After an almost year-long redesign that resulted in seven new holes, the golf course has officially reopened. Shenendoah offers 18 holes of PGA-level golf in a spectacular natural setting. The course was built and is maintained to comply with stringent Audubon International standards for environmental protection and preservation. Designer Rick Smith used the natural landscape to create wooded parkland holes, open pastures that capture the links feel, and beautifully simple low country-style holes. Designed, constructed and maintained to TOUR standards at more than 7,000 yards, the course offers conditions normally reserved for TOUR professionals. In 2006, Turning Stone Resort's Shenendoah Golf Club was host of the PGA National Club Professional Championship. This is a beautiful golf course, picturesque holes, fine landscaping and excellent conditioning.
