

Ministry of Commerce and WTO train exporters

9/30/2016

The Secretary of State for External Trade, Alexandre Costa, opened the seminar on "Rules of Origin", held on 28 and 29, in Luanda, in order to train operators from the productive sector.

Alexandre Costa said in the opening that "with the institutional support of the Ministry of Commerce, national productive exporting companies will have the necessary support for their insertion in international trade, increasing their participation and conquering new markets."

The seminar served to provide opportunities for interaction with the productive private sector, empower the national technical the fundamental issues of the agreement on rules of origin for non-preferential and preferential arrangements, for the goods and issues related to market access externals.

The seminar was organized by the Ministry of Commerce in partnership with the World Trade Organization – WTO, and representatives of the Ministry of Commerce, finance, agriculture, fisheries, industry, economy, petroleum as well as representatives of business associations, attended the event.

SOURCE: Angonoticias