THE STARR REPORT REVISITED — IN VERSE
Hail to the Chief: An Inauguration Poem
By Tanyo Ravicz

(Palm Springs, CA)—Hail to the Chief follows the continuing adventures of America's First Couple, the Clintons, from the rise of Bill's political fortunes in Arkansas to the swearing in of Hillary as the 45th president, and lovingly recreates the forbidden White House romance that rocked the nation.

If in this political season you crave something different, if you fancy Pope and Byron and Juvenal and Twain, if it has ever occurred to you that Bill Clinton is an American icon and that Monica Lewinski's face belongs on our paper currency, if rhymes please you and erotic gags don't dismay you, if any of this is true for you, then Hail to the Chief might do for you.

The illustrated, digital edition is 1600 lines long in keeping with the White House address at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. Hail can be read on any type or brand of e-reader, tablet, computer, or smartphone using the free Kindle app.

Hail to the Chief is now available at www.amazon.com/dp/B01381PCQE.
