In Andalucía the cool nights sizzle and crackle with energy from its famous tablaos. These café-style venues showcase flamenco at its most raw, creative, and authentic – where performers create by instinct and improvisation, showcase unbelievable technique, and create living art through the interplay between dancers, musicians, and audience. Experience live music and an international cast of world-class dancers in an intimate, accessible cabaret-style atmosphere.

“Join us! This is a rare opportunity to experience flamenco in the Elmira-Corning area,” remarked Lois Welk from the American Dance Asylum. “Enjoy the profoundly soulful art of flamenco and support a very good cause - The Food Bank of the Southern Tier.”

Founded in 1983, Flamenco Vivo Carlota Santana is one of United States’ premier Flamenco companies with bases in New York City and Durham, North Carolina.

About Flamenco Vivo Carlota Santana, Leah Bass-Baylis of the LA Dance Chronicle wrote: “The message is clear, these unique soloists with unique gifts and qualities come together to present a unified flamenco presentation. It is as if the artists celebrate, understand, and combine difference until difference does not matter. What matters is excellence, and this company is certainly that.”

This event is presented by American Dance Asylum Inc. in partnership with The Park Church of Elmira, NY.

In addition, on Sat. April 11, 7:30pm at Bailey Hall, Cornell University, Flamenco Vivo Carlota Santana will perform QUINTO ELEMENTO (Fifth Element), a new evening-length work choreographed by Patricia Guerrero and performed by the full company.
