My name is Tamar Hermes and I've been a Bell Canyon resident for 13 years. I love this community and all that it naturally has to offer. My new company GENERARTCITY is all about making time to create, inspire and connect through 2-hour classes with experts in a variety of engaging and interactive topics. I can't think of a better place than the beautiful Bell Canyon Park to spend a few hours painting together! I'm planning other creative classes on Feng Shui, jewelry making, healthy cooking, painting, and more in a variety of great spaces. To be added to our mailing list for upcoming events, e-mail us at generartcity@gmail.com.

Last month's class sold out! Hope to see you!
