INFORMED CONSENT FOR SURGICAL PROCEDURES

The doctor requests that you to sign this consent form before he meets with you today. This form will explain the risks that a patient assumes when they seek the services of a surgeon or a proctologist. You will have an opportunity to ask your doctor questions regarding any surgery or procedure, and you will have a right to decline any procedures before it is to begin.

Your doctor has asked you to consider the risks of having a surgical procedure on the gastrointestinal tract, genitals, and or procedures on your skin. Depending upon your circumstances, it is possible that your doctor may recommend several surgical operations or treatments spanning several weeks. Your doctor can make no guarantee that your problem will be either corrected or cured by these procedures.

Complications from surgery or colonoscopy/endoscopy can occur. If they do occur, most are corrected easily. Risks and alternatives to having rectal surgery are as follows:

- Bleeding – It is possible for some bleeding of the rectum to occur with this procedure. If bleeding should occur, it usually stops by itself. Only in rare cases will a blood transfusion ever be necessary.
- Allergy - Taking the pharmaceutical, nutritional, and or botanical nutraceuticals prescribed by your physician has been shown to minimize the negative effects of medications and anesthesia. However, it is still possible to have a life-threatening reaction to one or more of the medications, including to the anesthesia that you will receive during your treatment.
- Perforation – A very rare, but significant complication is a perforation. This is when a hole is made in the lining of the wall of the intestines, genitals, esophagus or stomach.
- Urinary Retention – If this occurs it is usually associated with anal muscle spasm after surgery, and or an enlarged prostate. This problem improves quickly during recovery. However, in extreme cases of urinary retention, catheterization by emergency room personnel may be necessary.
- AnoRectal Stenosis - A rare complication that can occur from rectal surgery is a tightening of the anal canal with the formation of excess scar tissue. This condition if it should occur, is usually corrected easily using a simple procedure to cut away and remove scar tissue. However, it's possible for this to become a chronic reoccurring condition after treatment.
- Infection - Proper adherence to a prescribed diet, adequate hydration, exercise, rest, and a proper mental attitude helps your immune system function at its highest level. However, it is still possible for the postoperative site not to heal completely. Sometimes, the body cannot resist infection in the surgical wound site. This infection can form a chronic sore, localized abscess draining pus, crack or fissure; and in some instances, cause the whole body to become very sick. Rarely, this condition can be life threatening.
- Unforeseen complications - In addition, it is possible to have unforeseen complications that are not listed here. Some of the complications from this procedure may require major surgery; some of the complications may require blood replacement therapy; some of the complications can cause poor healing wounds; permanent disability; loss of an organ or organ function, permanent deformity; and scarring. Very, very rarely, some complications can be fatal.
- Fecal incontinence – This is the failure of voluntary control of the anal sphincter muscles, with involuntary passage of stool or gas. This condition is rare after rectal surgery, but it can happen.
- Sensation or function of the operated area may be altered or completely lost, and asymmetry may occur.

• Alternatives - There may be alternatives to this procedure available to you, such as the use of other diagnostic tests, virtual colonoscopy, the barium enema, the barium swallow evaluation, including various forms of treatments as repeated local injections to the problem area, or the use of rectal suppositories and other medicines. However, these alternative methods carry their own risk of complications and a varying degree of success. Therefore, in those patients in whom surgery, colonoscopy or endoscopy is indicated, the recommended procedure will always be one that your physician believes provides the best chance of successful treatment combined with the lowest risk of complications.

Additionally: You have the right to ask questions and to refuse any treatment. However, once a procedure or anesthesia has begun, you are authorizing your physician to do whatever he/she deems necessary. Without your prior knowledge, if any unforeseen condition arises during a procedure, your physician may call for additional diagnostic tests, procedures, operations, or medication (including anesthesia and a blood transfusion), for which there is a specific indication or need. Additionally, if medical personnel should inadvertently get stuck with a sharp instrument and or contaminated with your blood, your blood may be tested for infectious diseases, including HIV.

In the event the you elect to have sedation or anesthesia before an exploratory or diagnostic procedure, then your consent for surgery is implied or given automatically for any condition that can be fixed or treated during the time that you are under the effects of analgesia.

Your doctor may require a surgical assistant to help with your operation. Other physicians, medical students, or medical equipment personnel may also be present. If so, then you may not be notified in advance of your doctor's decision to have such persons present during the operation.

Your doctor may be one who travels frequently to and from places far away, and may be unavailable to you in the event of a complication or an emergency. Should this occur, you may need to follow up with care for your surgical procedure with another physician who is on call, or you may have to go to the nearest hospital emergency room for care and treatment by physicians unknown. Or, you can arrange in advance to have another doctor perform proctology procedures, one who does not travel.

I certify that I have read or had read to me the contents of this form. I understand that there are risks and alternatives to most surgical and diagnostic procedures. I understand that I am encouraged to ask questions at the time of scheduling, and before the start of any surgery or procedure; and that if I feel uncomfortable for any reason, I have the right to refuse treatment.

Notice of Privacy Practices

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAYBE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

Effective Date September 23, 2013

A. PURPOSE OF THIS NOTICE.

This medical office is committed to preserving the privacy of your health information. In fact, we are required by law to do so for any health information created or received by us. We are required to provide this Notice of Privacy Practices ("Notice") to you. The Notice tells you how we can and cannot use and disclose the health information that you have given to us or that we have learned about you when you were a patient in our system. It also tells you about your rights and our legal duties concerning your health information.

We are required to abide by this Notice and any future changes to this Notice or law at all of our locations, including medical schools, medical residency programs, hospitals, skilled nursing facilities; numerous primary care and specialty clinics; multiple research institutes and centers; and several community service and outreach programs. This Notice applies to the practices of:

- All of our employees, volunteers, students, residents and service providers, including clinicians, who have access to health information.
- Any health care professional authorized to enter information into your health record.
- Any clinicians who might otherwise have access to your health information created or kept by us, as a result of, for example, their on-call coverage for our clinicians.

For the rest of this Notice, "we" and "us" will refer to all services, service areas, and workers on our staff. When we use the words "your health information," we mean any information that you have given us about you and your health, as well as information that we have received while we have taken care of you (including health information provided to us by those outside of our facilities).

We will have a copy of the current Notice with an effective date in clinical locations and on our website.

B. USES AND DISCLOSURES OF HEALTH INFORMATION FOR TREATMENT, PAYMENT, AND FOR OUR HEALTH CARE OPERATIONS.

1. Treatment, Payment and Health Care Operations.

The following section describes different ways that we use and disclose health information for treatment, payment and health care operations. For each of those categories, we explain what we mean and give one or more examples. Not every use or disclosure will be noted and there may be incidental disclosures that are a byproduct of the listed uses and disclosures. The ways we use and disclose health information will fall within one of the categories.

- a. For Treatment. We may use your health information to provide you with medical or dental treatment or services. We may disclose your health information to staff physicians, staff dentists, post-graduate fellows, midwives or nurse practitioners, and other personnel involved in your health care. We may also disclose your health information to students and resident physicians who, as a part of their educational programs (and while supervised by physicians or dentists), are involved in your care. Treatment includes (a) activities performed by nurses, office staff, hospital staff, technicians and other types of health care professionals providing care to you or coordinating or managing your care with third parties, (b) consultations with and between our providers and other health care providers, and (c) activities of other physicians or other medical providers covering our practice by telephone or serving as the on-call provider.

For example, a physician or dentist treating you for an infection may need to know if you have other health problems that could complicate your treatment. That provider may use your medical history to decide what treatment is best for you. They may also tell another provider about your condition so that he or she can decide the best treatment for you.

- b. For Payment. We may use and disclose your health information so that we may bill and collect payment from you, an insurance company, or someone else for health care services you receive from us. We may also tell your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive to obtain prior approval, or to determine whether your plan will pay for the treatment.

For example, we may need to give your health plan information about surgery you received at any facility so that your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the surgery.

- c. For Health Care Operations. We may use and disclose your health information in order to run the necessary administrative, educational, quality assurance and business functions at our facility. For example, we may use your health information to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also use health information about patients to help us decide what additional services we should offer, how we can improve efficiency, or whether certain treatments are effective. Or we may give health information to doctors, nurses, technicians, or health profession students for review, analysis and other teaching and learning purposes.
2. Fundraising Activities. As a part of our healthcare operations, we may use and disclose a limited amount of your health information internally, or to other charitable foundations to allow them to contact you to raise money. The health information released for these fundraising purposes can include your name, address, other contact information, gender, age, date of birth, dates on which you received service, health insurance status, the outcome of your treatment at our facility and your treating physician's name and department at our facility. Any fundraising communications you receive from us or our Foundations will include information on how you can elect not to receive any further fundraising communications from us or them.

3. Uses and Disclosures You Can Limit

- a. Hospital Directory. Unless you notify us that you object, we may include certain information about you in the hospital directory in order to respond to inquiries from friends, family, clergy and others who inquire about you when you are a patient in the hospital. Specifically, your name, location in the hospital and your general condition (e.g., good, fair, serious, critical) may be released to people who ask for you by name. In addition, your religious affiliation may be given to a member of the clergy, such as a priest or rabbi, even if they don't ask for you by name.
- b. Family and Friends. Unless you notify us that you object, we may provide your health information to individuals, such as family and friends, who are involved in your care or who help pay for your care. We may do this if you tell us we can do so, or if you know we are sharing your health information with these people and you don't stop us from doing so. There may also be circumstances when we can assume, based on our professional judgment, that you would not object. For example, we may assume you agree to our disclosure of your information to your spouse if your spouse comes with you into the exam room during treatment.

Also, if you are not able to approve or object to disclosures, we may make disclosures to a particular individual (such as a family member or friend), that we feel are in your best interest and that relate to that person's involvement in your care. For example, we may tell someone who comes with you to the emergency room that you suffered a heart attack and provide updates on your condition. We may also make similar professional judgments about your best interests that allow another person to pick up such things as filled prescriptions, medical supplies and X-rays.

C. OTHER PERMITTED USES AND DISCLOSURES OF HEALTH CARE INFORMATION.

We may use or disclose your health information without your permission in the following circumstances, subject to all applicable legal requirements and limitations:

1. Required By Law: As required by federal, state, or local law.

4. Health Oversight Activities: To a health oversight agency for audits, investigations, inspections, licensing purposes, or as necessary for certain government agencies to monitor the health care system, government programs, and compliance with civil rights laws.
5. Lawsuits and Disputes: In response to a subpoena, discovery request or a court or administrative order, if certain criteria are met.
6. Law Enforcement: To a law enforcement official for law enforcement purposes as required by law; in response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons or similar process; for identification and location purposes if requested; to respond to a request for information on an actual or suspected crime victim; to report a crime in an emergency; to report a crime on our premises; or to report a death if the death is suspected to be the result of criminal conduct.
7. Coroners, Medical Examiners and Funeral Directors: To a coroner or medical examiner, (as necessary, for example, to identify a deceased person or determine the cause of death) or to a funeral director, as necessary to allow him/her to carry out his/her activities.
8. Organ and Tissue Donation: To organizations that handle organ procurement or organ, eye or tissue transplantation, or to an organ donation bank, as necessary to facilitate a donation and transplantation.
9. Research: For research purposes under certain limited circumstances. Research projects are subject to a special approval process. Therefore, we will not use or disclose your health information for research purposes until the particular research project, for which your health information may be used or disclosed, has been approved through this special approval process.
10. Serious Threat to Health or Safety; Disaster Relief: To appropriate individual(s)/organization(s) when necessary (i) to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or that of the public or another person, or (ii) to notify your family members or persons responsible for you in a disaster relief effort.
11. Military: To appropriate domestic or foreign military authority to assure proper execution of a military mission, if required criteria are met.
12. National Security; Intelligence Activities; Protective Service: To federal officials for intelligence, counterintelligence, and other national security activities authorized by law, including activities related to the protection of the President, other authorized persons or foreign heads of state, or related to the conduct of special investigations.

14. Workers' Compensation: As necessary to comply with laws relating to workers' compensation or similar work-related injury program.

D. WHEN WRITTEN AUTHORIZATION IS REQUIRED.

Other than for those purposes identified above in Sections B and C, we will not use or disclose your health information for any purpose unless you give us your specific written authorization to do so. Special circumstances that require an authorization include most uses and disclosures of your psychotherapy notes, certain disclosures of your test results for the human immunodeficiency virus or HIV, uses and disclosures of your health information for marketing purposes that encourage you to purchase a product or service, and for sale of your health information with some exceptions. If you give us authorization, you can withdraw this written authorization at any time. To withdraw your authorization, deliver a written revocation to us. If you revoke your authorization, we will no longer use or disclose your health information as allowed by your written authorization, except to the extent that we have already relied on your authorization.

E. YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION.

You have certain rights regarding your health information which we list below. In each of these cases, if you want to exercise your rights, you must do so in writing. You can get information about how to exercise your rights and about any costs that we may charge for materials by contacting us directly.

1. Right to Inspect and Copy. With some exceptions, you have the right to inspect and get a copy of the health information that we use to make decisions about your care. For the portion of your health record maintained in our electronic health record, you may request we provide that information to or for you in an electronic format. If you make such a request, we are required to provide that information for you electronically (unless we deny your request for other reasons). We may deny your request to inspect and/or copy in certain limited circumstances, and if we do this, you may ask that the denial be reviewed.
2. Right to Amend. You have the right to amend your health information maintained by us, or used by us to make decisions about you. We will require that you provide a reason for the request, and we may deny your request for an amendment if the request is not properly submitted, or if it asks us to amend information that (a) we did not create (unless the source of the information is no longer available to make the amendment); (b) is not part of the health information that we keep; (c) is of a type that you would not be permitted to inspect and copy; or (d) is already accurate and complete.
3. Right to an Accounting of Disclosures. You have the right to request a list and description of certain disclosures by us of your health information.
4. Right to Request Restrictions. You have the right to request a restriction or limitation on the health information we use or disclose about you (a) for treatment, payment, or health care operations, (b) to someone who is involved in your care or the payment for it, such as a family member or friend, or (c) to a health plan for payment or health care operations purposes when the item or service for which we have been paid out of pocket in full by you or someone on your behalf (other than the health plan). For example, you could ask that we not use or disclose information about a surgery you had, a laboratory test ordered or a medical device prescribed for your care. Except for the request noted in 4(c) above, we are not required to agree to your request. Any time we agree to such a restriction, it must be in writing and signed by our Privacy Officer or his or her designee.
5. Right to Request Confidential Communications. You have the right to request that we communicate with you about health matters in a certain way or at a certain place. We will accommodate reasonable requests. For example, you can ask that we only contact you at work or by mail.
