

Ready to race

Cardboard boat builders get off to a good start at one of several workshops held recently. The goal for some is to win the Paddlin' 4 Paws Cardboard Boat Regatta May 14 at Lake Wedowee, while the goal for others is simply to still be floating when the event ends. Working on their boats are (distant left) a group from Sacred Heart School at McClellan, who are building three boats sponsored by Dr. Russell Peterson, Genworth Financial and Economy Calking, (distant right), the Prestige Pups team from Wedowee, (foreground) The Randolph Leader boat, and (not visible, front left) the EMT team from Roanoke. Funds from the races benefit Randolph County Animal Shelter.

Cardboard boat race May 14

Paddlin' 4 Paws fundraiser for Randolph County Animal Shelter is less than four weeks away. Mark your calendar for a big time on Lake Wedowee Saturday, May 14.

It is free to park, free admission, and free entertainment featuring performances by the Col. Biggs Alabama Show Ski Team, Cardboard Boat Regatta races, and singer Johnathan East.

Enjoy reasonably priced food including grilled lunch plates with a drink for $5. Barbecue and bakery items are available to take out.

Event info and event T-shirts are available with all profits going to RCAS. For more information: www.RandolphShelter.org or www.highairs.com
