

Supply List for A Maze Zing

My quilt is 48" by 70"

For the whole quilt: I used the equivalent of (27) 2 ½" strips that are 40" long. For variety, I cut all of my strips in half. You may want to wait to do that until we discuss it in class, but I would say it is unnecessary for your strips to be selvage to selvage. I think anything a foot or longer will work, so if you have leftover partial strips, they will work just fine.

(32) strips that are 1½" wide, and 40" long, or an equivalent amount of fabric.

A sewing machine, threaded with your regular piecing thread pins

ruler (if your strips are already cut, you won't need a large one) tape measure (I found it useful to use a 120" tape measure, once my quilt got larger than 60" on a side, but we may not get that far during class, so a 60" tape measure will work for much of it)

rotary cutter

mat

marking pencils that will show up well on all of your fabrics

scissors

a copy of the pattern ($7ea for class participants)

We will also need at least a couple of ironing stations.
