

JAMIE ANDERSON

Jamie is a graduate of Texas Tech University where she earned a Bachelor of Arts in Family Studies and a Minor in Psychology with an emphasis on Substance Abuse Counseling. Jamie worked as a Licensed Professional Counselor for two years before receiving her teacher's certification in Special Education & Dance. Jamie worked as a Special Education teacher in Odessa, Texas, for 5 years where she incorporated dance into their daily curriculum. She became the dance teacher & director of the Odessa High School Showgirls as well as the district wide mentor for all dance programs in the public school system for 11 years.

In June, 2012, Jamie and her family moved to Plano, TX, where she became an instructor & office manager at Dance Industry Performing Arts Center in Plano, Texas. Jamie continues to work with drill teams & studios all over Texas teaching master classes & leadership workshops. Jamie feels blessed to be given the opportunity to instill the love and passion for dance with everyone she works with.
