

FGS Resources

Whether you're an experienced genealogist or just beginning to research your family history, the Falmouth Genealogical Society (FGS) has programs and services to meet your needs.

Meetings

Monthly meeting presentations feature diverse topics by professional genealogists and our own members.

Meetings are held on the second Saturday of each month from 10 am-noon at the Falmouth Public Library, 300 Main Street. Talks are also available by ZOOM. Meetings are free and open to the public.

Research Assistance

Two programs—the Tuesday Help Desk and Team Up!—offer individualized assistance.

Tuesday Help Desk

Volunteers provide individual help with genealogical research every Tuesday from 2-4 pm at the Falmouth Public Library, 300 Main Street. No appointment needed; free service.

Team Up!

Members can schedule a private Team Up! session for additional help. These free sessions are available in person or via ZOOM. For more information, contact fgsresident@gmail.com.

Volunteer Opportunities

Throughout its history, FGS has relied on volunteers to advance its mission and to produce programs and manage all aspects of the organization, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit. As we plan for our future, we invite your help and input. Our goal is to match volunteers with areas of interest: research, programs, publicity, outreach, membership, finance, website, and more.

FGS History

The Falmouth Genealogical Society (FGS) was founded in 1985 to engage and inspire individuals to explore their family history. FGS provides educational programs designed for members to share research interests, areas of expertise, and best practices. Our members come from the local community and the region, conducting family research across the United States and the world.
