Keynote speaker:
Hope Flansburg

We are all born with a soul purpose- a voice of truth that comes from God. Through the challenges of life, grief, loss, and trauma, and sometimes a result of other people's opinions, it's easy to lose that truth. Limiting beliefs and fear paralyze us, dictating the choices we make that keep us stuck. In this place we become frustrated, insecure and resentful. It's easy to numb to avoid the pain, or seek out love, worth, and approval from other places. But these are only temporary fixes and don't provide what we truly seek. Instead, we cycle through patterns that do not serve our higher purpose.

By using examples from her novel, Piece by Piece, Hope will discuss how negative belief systems dictate the direction of our life and keep us from healing, and having a loving relationship with self and others. She will include interactive exercises to identify sabotaging beliefs, build skills, and make the practice of listening to our inner voice of God's truth stronger than the opinion or approval of others.

Hope will also share her own testimony of going from living with anger and fear to regaining her spiritual truth, freedom, and power.
