

ICELANDIC MOUNTAIN VODKA

Icelandic Mountain Vodka has just received a gold medallion from Tastings.com, one of the most authoritative, most consistent, and most influential annual spirits review in the United States for the last 20 years.

The vodka scored 92 points out of a 100 points.
The judges described the vodka as:

"Clear color. Creamy, confectioned aromas and flavors of spumoni, peach jam, and pistachio paste with a round, dryish medium-to-full body and a lychee and mint cream finish. A vodka full of character, body, and confection - balanced and unexpected."

Icelandic Mountain Spirits is also planning to launch their next product in coming weeks, the Icelandic Mountain Gin.

The product is not only winning titles, Hafthor "The Mountain" Björnsson just won the second place in Arnold Classic last weekend in Columbus Ohio, where he also broke two world records.
