

Just a Minute

Rachael Martin 6,30,2017

I hear the Lord saying, let Me take just a minute to tell you how much I love you.

Let Me take just a minute to let you know that I prepared today for you.

Let Me take just a minute to remind you that you have Me to lean on.

Let Me take just a minute to restart your spiritual journey this morning with My word.

Let Me take just a minute to remind you that My burden is light.

Let Me take just a minute to say I'm greater than what you see.

Let Me take just a minute to remind you that I'm preparing a table before you in the presence of your enemies.

Let Me take just a minute to remind you that I've got the answers and I know when you need them.

Let Me take just a minute to let you know I've never left you – not for one minute.

Let Me take just a minute to remind you that blessings come in all shapes and sizes.

Let Me take just a minute to implore you to seek Me with all you have for as long as you can, as often as you think of Me.

Let Me take just a minute to let you know that I'm thinking of you more than you will ever realize.

Let Me take just a minute to ask you to talk to Me.

Let Me take just a minute to say Believe in Me!

Let Me take just a minute to speak to you and hold you and show you deeper things you know not of.

Let Me take just a minute of each day for the rest of your days.

Just a minute..... If you read all of this..... It took you 1 minute, and 24 seconds.

Have a blessed weekend! © 2017 www.gatheringathisfeet.org EMAIL: gina@gatheringathisfeet.org