

Are You Well Prepared to Help Your Clients with Their Pet Behavior Issues?

FACT: Pet owners expect veterinary offices to help them solve behavior problems with their pets.

FACT: AVSAB recommends that veterinarians use or refer their clients ONLY to trainers and behavior consultants who understand and use the principles of positive reinforcement training and do not use dominance-based training.

FACT: Many dog trainers employ punishment and dominance to stop problem behavior.

FACT: Veterinarians have a difficult time evaluating the skills, quality and methods employed by the trainers who ask to be included in their referrals.

FACT: Karen Pryor Academy provides veterinarians with a reliable, quality controlled nationwide network of dog trainers who teach and train using exclusively positive reinforcement principles. KPA Certified Training Partners maintain high client service standards and have the 'know how' to build productive partnerships with veterinarians.
