Since 2002, the PGA Tour has held the Honda Classic each spring in Palm Beach Gardens, FL at the PGA National Resort and Spa. Why has this resort been a regular host the PGA to for so long? Is it the AAA Four Diamond resort rating? Perhaps it's the ninety (90) holes of golf on (5) championship courses, the eight (8) on-site restaurants and lounges, the luxurious guestrooms, the 40,000 square feet of European Spa facilities, or the famous "Bear Trap"? There are 5 golf courses, tennis, a spa with thermal pools, a fitness center and a tropical pool, as well as large-scale event facilities. The courses we'll play are all on-site and very convenient to our accommodations.

Golf Courses Information:

Three rounds of golf are planned including (1) round on Nicklaus's Champion Course (current host of the Honda Classic), (1) round on the Estates Course (designed by Karl Litten), and (1) round on the Fazio Course (Tom Fazio II redesign). All 3 courses are easily accessible from the resort rooms located on property after a satisfying breakfast buffet in the resort's Palm Terrace restaurant. Along with daily breakfast, 2 cocktail receptions, 2 group dinners, and final round lunch is included. The proximity of these amenities in one location make this resort champion worthy.

Champion Golf Course

Originally designed by Tom and George Fazio for major tournament play, The Champion course at PGA National Resort & Spa was redesigned by Jack Nicklaus in 1990 and now hosts the Honda Classic each spring on the PGA TOUR. Jack Nicklaus redesigned the course in 2014 giving professional golfers from around the globe reason to keep this destination on their radar. Beware of "Bear Trap" along the closing holes.

Estates Golf Course

Designed by Karl Litten, The Estates course presents an enjoyable mix of challenging and docile holes. The course sets up for any level of player as it is one of the shorter courses at PGA National Resort & Spa. Where golfers are tested is in the formidable placement of fairway bunkers and water hazards. Generous fairways at this course will often make stray tee shots more manageable, and the large, inviting greens help keep the course fun for the high handicapper. Forced carries to many of the greens over either hazards or bunkers create a test that makes each round more enjoyable than the last. With an open feeling created by the property-wide housing setbacks, the course seems almost like a core golf course. The Estates course is located five miles west of the main resort.

Fazio Golf Course

PGA National Resort is proud to present the new Fazio course. The Fazio is a reinvention of The Haig, PGA National Resort & Spa's original 18-hole course that opened in 1980. The Haig was designed by George and Tom Fazio in tribute to five-time PGA champion Walter Hagen, and its renovation is being led by third-generation designer Tom Fazio II, who emphasized modernizing the course layout. While the original par-72 routing remains intact, the renovation improves the classic golf architecture with modern advances.
