

Runaway Blue Brewing Company is a micro-brewery that opened on South Main Street in November. It is owned by husband and wife, and Newark natives- Brian & Maria Bremer. The name of the brewery was inspired by their Blue Heeler mix, Coley!

The brewery features a variety of different styles of beer that are all made right on site by Brian, who has a wealth of knowledge and experience in the world of beer. Brian previously brewed for Young Lion Brewing Company in Canandaigua, NY before deciding to start this project. Besides beer, the brewery has a local hard cider on tap, local wines, non-alcoholic beers, sodas, and some foods to pair with it all. The space also includes a patio area to enjoy during the warmer season. Runaway Blue is dog-friendly, of course!

Brian and Maria are excited to be located right in the heart of their hometown that they love, and they hope to pull a lot of Newark's history into their production and operations. One of their featured brews is called "Rose Parade" and pays tribute to the Village once being known as the "Rose Capital of America", back when it hosted the thriving Jackson & Perkins Rose Gardens.

Stop into Runaway Blue to experience unique beer flavors, a vintage flare, and likely a happy pup to greet you on your way in, too!
