12:40 4K Handwriting Without Tears. I teach handwriting without tears which is a fun interactive way to teach kids how to form and write their letters using big line, little line, big curve and little curves. You start with letters that are straight lines..L,F,E,T. Then you move on to letters with curves C,G,D,B,P. And finally letters with diagonal lines R, K,V,W.

I teach these using wood pieces to form letters. Stamp and see boards to form letters and write these letters on dry erase boards, worksheets, letter binders, etc. There are many fun songs to go along with this program including the kids favorite "Matman" and the "tap tap song".

We use these fun, engaging and developmentally appropriate instructional methods to enable children to master handwriting as an automatic and comfortable skill. There will be a handwriting and number workbook that your child will be able to share with you at the end of the year.
