

Robert Rosenfeld Board Member Bio

I graduated with a bachelors degree from UCLA in 1989. After graduating I joined KPMG's tax department (the largest CPA firm in the world). It was during this time that I passed the CPA exam. The clients I had were large international companies such as Princess Cruises, Capitol Records and a variety of large film and production companies.

After leaving public accounting I took executive positions in the finance area of several corporations including Toyota Motor Sales, CB Richard Ellis and Icon Productions (Mel Gibson's production company).

Towards the end of my career I transitioned one more time into a project manager for the implementation of enterprise wide software. I was responsible for the design, system testing and the eventual roll-out of new programs.

I spent more than 30 years in the above mentioned positions before retiring. I bring that management, technical, and accounting/legal expertise to the HOA. I feel the mix of my experience is beneficial to help insure that the HOA is run properly.
