KITCHEN

- We are almost there! Next week the remaining kitchen counters are scheduled for installation. Other items left to complete are the backsplashes, hardware, and reloading all the kitchen items that have been stored in the conference room. The final design of the cabinet area incurred some additional expenses, but the added counters and cabinets make the extra costs worthwhile. We thank Brian Pokluda for managing the project and Michael Pokluda and Pokluda Construction for fine cabinetry, flexibility and generosity in completing the project.
