SHAME ON YOU

By John Lipinski

I saw you dancin' with Jimmy Ray
And sneakin' little kisses, just the other day
You ain't foolin' no one and you better stop messin' around
Everyone in town knows, you're doin' me wrong
How can you be so cruel to a love so strong
You're puttin' shame on me & you know, you're puttin' shame on you

Shame, shame, shame, shame on you
You're doin' all the things you know, you're not supposed to do
You'd better get back home, where you belong
And stop leavin' me so all alone
It's just a shame, shame, shame, shame on you

Solo

We used to be so happy, just me & you
You'd never want another, you would always be true
Now you have so many lovers, stop tellin' me all of your lies
You know I'm gonna love you till the day I die
And sometimes I can't even see the reason why
You're puttin' shame on me & you know, you're putting shame on you

Shame, shame, shame, shame on you
You're doin' all the things you know, you're not supposed to do
You'd better get back home, where you belong
And stop leavin' me so all alone
It's just a shame, shame, shame, shame on you
It's just a shame, shame, shame, shame on you
It's just a shame, shame, shame…shame on you
