Course Description:

This Non-Language Specific three (3) CIMCE/CEU credit hour course will outline and familiarize the student with "Non-Ballistic", such as clubs, knives, hand-held weapons and tools used in the commission of crimes. It will outline the history and evolution of "non-firearm" weapons and how they are being utilized by today's criminal element as well as defensive and non-ballistic equipment utilized by current law enforcement professionals and civilians alike. Students will learn terminology, descriptive and operational aspects of many diverse types of weapons used in custody environments, as well as typical weapons used on the streets by criminal gang members and other law offenders. As with all Interpreter Training Group courses, the presented instruction will focus on the explanation of terms, descriptions and procedures so that when necessary a greater measure of effectiveness and conveyance of meaning can be delivered successfully by the Interpreter to their client. This course will benefit any Interpreter who is assigned to a criminal court, however due to the many civil, medical and criminal areas this topic touches, it is recommended for Interpreters in operating in any area of professional interpreting.
