Who We Are

Our organization was founded on many years in the wedding, event, and promotional industry. Over time, we learned that our passion was to craft the words that unite couples in a memorable way. We feel that many people lose site of the fact that it is the ceremony that is the gateway of your special day and sets the pace, tone, and feeling for the day.

TodayWeWed.com is dedicated to creating joyous ceremonies that symbolize your love. The promises you make to each other will be the defining moments for launching the dream and vision for your new life together. For each Bride and Groom, this day should always be a day to remember, a day to cherish forever, a day that will reflect the journey of love that has brought them to this moment of commitment. Dr.

Spencer Gaines will create a memorable, heartfelt experience for you and your wedding guests.

PREMIER WEDDING OFFICIANT

DR. SPENCER L. GAINES

The officiant services offered by Dr. Spencer L. Gaines are unique in that he has spent his career empowering individuals and groups through the sharing of his knowledge and experience. As the holder of a double Doctorate in Leadership and People Development, Dr. "G" understands the critical role that each member of a family unit has in making both the marriage and the household successful. As a life coach, motivational speaker, educator, and author Spencer creates a one of a kind ceremonial experience that is custom tailored to the couple and is not simply a "cookie-cutter" ceremony that one would find getting married at city hall. In addition, Spencer Gaines holds a graduate degree in Conflict Resolution with a specialization in Culture and Diversity. This knowledge and experience has allowed Spencer to empower people and organizations. With the ability to navigate through challenging times and provide the tools needed to successfully maintain the relationships while addressing the issues.
