

Where can you find your banking / account information?

To establish pre-authorized debits or direct deposits, you need to know how your banking information is organized.

Your account can be identified by three numbers: the institution / transit numbers, and your account number.

They can all be found at the bottom of your cheques or on the direct deposit form (which you can download when you access your account online).

If you need a void (cancelled) cheque to identify your account, don't fill in or sign it. Cross out the face of the cheque and write 'void' or 'cancelled' on it.
