

Does that job really exist?

By Phil Neary - Across-the-Board Recruitment

Waterslide tester wanted in Dubai

How would you like to taste ice-cream for a living?

Maybe you think that teaching dogs to surf is more your thing?

How do you think your careers adviser would have reacted if you said you want to be a Disney Princess?

There were a number of unusual jobs advertised throughout 2016 that really do exist.

Chances are, you wouldn't think to put these titles into your job search!!

Here are 10 unusual jobs advertised in 2016

1. Waterslide Tester – Dubai - £20k pa
2. Senior Lego Sculptor – Denmark - £8.20 per hour
3. Roller Coaster Tester – various – Unpaid
4. Island Keeper – Australia - £78k pa
5. Ice Cream Taster – Italy - £41k pa
6. Great Barrier Reef Caretaker – Australia - £36.5k pa
7. Dog Surfing Instructor – California - £51.00 per hour
8. Disney Princess Character – Florida - £11.00 per hour
9. Coconut Safety Officer – Thailand - £17k pa
10. Outback Adventurer – Australia - £52k pa

Did you know that 150 people are killed by falling Coconut's every year?

If you come across any unusual jobs, please tell us about them. Send us the link to inbox@atbreruit.co.uk

We will compile a list of the most obscure ones in a future article.