Dear Members of the Westminster Elks,

I hope this message finds you well and that everyone had a joyous holiday season! As we welcome the new year, I want to take a moment to reflect on the wonderful events we shared at the Lodge in December. From the heartwarming Kids' Christmas Party to the always festive Tom and Jerry's gathering and ringing in the New Year in the Jolly Cork Room, it was a month filled with great memories and camaradery.

As we step into January, it's the perfect time for fresh beginnings. Let's take this opportunity to share what makes the Elks so meaningful to us. Tell your friends why you joined and invite them to experience the fellowship we enjoy – whether it's at a social event or just a casual dinner at the Lodge.

Here's to a fantastic start to 2025! I am looking forward to seeing you all soon.

Fraternally,
Exalted Ruler, Adam Ingalls

WESTY WASH DAYS NEWS

Another month has passed, and I am happy to report that Wash Days are going strong! We served another 14 people on November 21 and 40 on November 23. There were some people coming back from the October event. Our volunteer group is strong and the Westminster Elks have helped greatly with their time and additional donations. I would especially like to thank the Book Give group for providing new and gently used books for all ages. The children have really seemed to love this little bonus gift.

As a reminder, we are providing hygiene kits that consist of toothbrush and toothpaste, body wash and shampoo books, snacks and drinks in addition to the free laundry services paid for by our Beacon, Spotlight and Gratitude grants. Next year, with an increase in Elks National Foundation (ENF) donations, we will also qualify for the Freedom grant that is targeted specifically to military and veterans. Let's see if we can make this happen too!

A point to ponder: Is this program something we want to continue in another Lodge year? Is there some project you might like us to consider? Let me know your thoughts.

Diane Schantz, wooliedi@comcast.net or 303-905-9353.

Community Involvement Committee Meeting Minutes 11/13/2024

Members Present: Diane Shantz, Colleen Warren, Joe Scharfenberg, Donna Scharfenberg, Bill Scharfenberg

Minutes: Approved as distributed

Old Business: We reviewed our experiences of the October Wash Days, with an eye to improving future dates. Joe noted that arriving at the sites at 10:00 was too early, set up could be accomplished in about half the time. Thursday was slow, had limited seating available. Wash loads were operated easily by an electronic payment system. Dianne noted that the receipt was difficult to obtain from owner. He was slow to respond to our request.

Saturday was much busier both due to increased volume and the need for actual coins to pay for loads. Colleen expressed frustration at the wide range of pricing for various sizes of "one load". Price could vary from $3.50 to $9.00 per load, depending upon the machine. People were seen trying to select preferred items in the hygiene kits.

Dianne briefly reviewed current inventory and will be shopping to increase needs before this month's wash day.

We thanked the WCF for providing all the snacks and waters for the events. These were very well received and we still have a number of packaged snacks left for next month. We will request fresh fruit (bananas and cuties) and some additional water for November.

New Business:

Brainstormed some options for making the November Wash Days better.

- We concluded that at Hidden Lake, the automatic system would allow for one load both way and dry. There is not enough variation in cost to worry about.
- The sign in table will be at the back of the room to keep the doorways open for traffic. An Elk can hang out at the front to direct people back to the table.
- At Superior, we will bring quarters from the bank, skipping the change machine. We will bag up a $5.00 supply of quarters and a coupon for a dryer. When the load of laundry is complete, the client can bring us the coupon and we will feed the dryer for them. We will still try to account for families washing for extra people (kids) and homeless persons who may need to do an additional load for their sleeping bags, coats, etc. Individual judgement is encouraged as this is a charity.
- Because our most expensive items as the hygiene kits and socks, we will keep these at the sign in table and give one of each when the client signs in. Socks are in bundles of two pair, hygiene kits are presorted in baggies. We will not have folks trying to swap out products. If children are present, we can give them one (each) of the small hygiene kits.
- snacks and drinks and books will be on an unsupervised table for anyone to take as much as they need. Gloves are now available, due to a member donation. We may consider adding some sort of juice box/Capri Sun drink to the water cooler. Tide pods and dryer sheets can be on the larger table.

Current supply inventory will be reviewed at next meeting.

Westminster, Colorado 80030

Dear Members of the Westminster Elks,

I hope this message finds you well and that everyone had a joyous holiday season! As we welcome the new year, I want to take a moment to reflect on the wonderful events we shared at the Lodge in December. From the heartwarming Kids' Christmas Party to the always festive Tom and Jerry's gathering and ringing in the New Year in the Jolly Cork Room, it was a month filled with great memories and camaradery.

As we step into January, it's the perfect time for fresh beginnings. Let's take this opportunity to share what makes the Elks so meaningful to us. Tell your friends why you joined and invite them to experience the fellowship we enjoy – whether it's at a social event or just a casual dinner at the Lodge.

Here's to a fantastic start to 2025! I am looking forward to seeing you all soon.

Fraternally,
Exalted Ruler, Adam Ingalls

WESTY WASH DAYS NEWS

Another month has passed, and I am happy to report that Wash Days are going strong! We served another 14 people on November 21 and 40 on November 23. There were some people coming back from the October event. Our volunteer group is strong and the Westminster Elks have helped greatly with their time and additional donations. I would especially like to thank the Book Give group for providing new and gently used books for all ages. The children have really seemed to love this little bonus gift.

As a reminder, we are providing hygiene kits that consist of toothbrush and toothpaste, body wash and shampoo books, snacks and drinks in addition to the free laundry services paid for by our Beacon, Spotlight and Gratitude grants. Next year, with an increase in Elks National Foundation (ENF) donations, we will also qualify for the Freedom grant that is targeted specifically to military and veterans. Let's see if we can make this happen too!

A point to ponder: Is this program something we want to continue in another Lodge year? Is there some project you might like us to consider? Let me know your thoughts.

Diane Schantz, wooliedi@comcast.net or 303-905-9353.

Community Involvement Committee Meeting Minutes 11/13/2024

Members Present: Diane Shantz, Colleen Warren, Joe Scharfenberg, Donna Scharfenberg, Bill Scharfenberg

Minutes: Approved as distributed

Old Business: We reviewed our experiences of the October Wash Days, with an eye to improving future dates. Joe noted that arriving at the sites at 10:00 was too early, set up could be accomplished in about half the time. Thursday was slow, had limited seating available. Wash loads were operated easily by an electronic payment system. Dianne noted that the receipt was difficult to obtain from owner. He was slow to respond to our request.

Saturday was much busier both due to increased volume and the need for actual coins to pay for loads. Colleen expressed frustration at the wide range of pricing for various sizes of "one load". Price could vary from $3.50 to $9.00 per load, depending upon the machine. People were seen trying to select preferred items in the hygiene kits.

Dianne briefly reviewed current inventory and will be shopping to increase needs before this month's wash day.

We thanked the WCF for providing all the snacks and waters for the events. These were very well received and we still have a number of packaged snacks left for next month. We will request fresh fruit (bananas and cuties) and some additional water for November.

New Business:

Brainstormed some options for making the November Wash Days better.

- We concluded that at Hidden Lake, the automatic system would allow for one load both way and dry. There is not enough variation in cost to worry about.
- The sign in table will be at the back of the room to keep the doorways open for traffic. An Elk can hang out at the front to direct people back to the table.
- At Superior, we will bring quarters from the bank, skipping the change machine. We will bag up a $5.00 supply of quarters and a coupon for a dryer. When the load of laundry is complete, the client can bring us the coupon and we will feed the dryer for them. We will still try to account for families washing for extra people (kids) and homeless persons who may need to do an additional load for their sleeping bags, coats, etc. Individual judgement is encouraged as this is a charity.
- Because our most expensive items as the hygiene kits and socks, we will keep these at the sign in table and give one of each when the client signs in. Socks are in bundles of two pair, hygiene kits are presorted in baggies. We will not have folks trying to swap out products. If children are present, we can give them one (each) of the small hygiene kits.
- snacks and drinks and books will be on an unsupervised table for anyone to take as much as they need. Gloves are now available, due to a member donation. We may consider adding some sort of juice box/Capri Sun drink to the water cooler. Tide pods and dryer sheets can be on the larger table.

Current supply inventory will be reviewed at next meeting.
