An Autumn to Remember...and How!

Sue Stahl has masterminded the vintage custom event of the year!

"An Autumn to Remember," an all-vintage-custom live show that Sue is very kindly having be a benefit for the Vintage Custom Model Equine Center, will be held Sept. 28 at the Wayne County Fairgrounds in Belleville, Mich. !

The show features a 38-class "Breed Challenge" and eight-class "Workmanship Challenge," each divided into three divisions: 1960s/'70s, 1980s, and 1990s. Your pre-2000 vintage custom horse is able to enter both a breed class and a workmanship class, with championships galore to be awarded! There's an entry limit of five horses per class per person.

The entry fee is $65 per person for a full 6-foot table, or $35 per person for half a table. (A pizza and soda lunch is available for an extra $10--yum!) Proxy entries are allowed, too, at $5 per horse, up to a limit of 10 horses.

Entries for "An Autumn to Remember" opened on May 1, and the entry deadline is Sept. 14. No entries will be accepted at the door, so don't miss out!

The show's website is <https://stahls6.wixsite.com/autumntoremember>, complete with the classlist, an online entry form, a downloadable show packet, sponsorship information, and more!

The show also has its own Facebook group:
<https://www.facebook.com/groups/atrshow>

Sue can be reached by email at RememberAutumnShow@gmail.com.

She and Linda Leach used to hold one of our all-time favorite live shows, "Autumn in Michigan." We sure miss those days so are extra-excited that Sue has this great show in the works--and are absolutely wowed that she's having it be a benefit for the Vintage Custom Model Equine Center. Thank you so, so much, Sue!

We'll going to do our darndest to make it--and sure hope you will, too. It's going to truly be an autumn to remember!

The VCMEC 2022-23 Online Overall World Champions & Reserves--and How They Got There!

We've almost reached the big finish, the unveiling of the Overall World Champions and Overall Reserve World Champions for each division!

And we do mean World Champions. This edition of the VCMEC Online World Championships attracted vintage customs owned in Australia, Canada, the United Kingdom, and the USA!

First, though, here's how all these final class results and divisional results were determined.

To be eligible, a horse had to compete in its class for at least four legs of this six-leg series (unless shown by an entrant who judged one of the last four legs but did not enter the first two legs, or whose horse was unable to compete in one of the last four legs due to having been created by the judge; in either of these cases, the horse had to have competed in its class in at least three legs).

A World Champion, Reserve World Champion, and third through tenth place were named in each class, determined by the average of each horse's best four (or three as above) placings in that class.

In calculating the averages, an HM was considered 11th place, and being unplaced by a judge was calculated as 15th place.

To be named World Champion, a horse had to have also won that class at least once. (The Reserve World Champion did not need to have won.)

In the event of a tie, the amount of championships that each of the tied horses won in that show during the series broke the tie. (In all calculations, one Reserve Championship was considered half a Championship.) If the tied horses won the same number of championships in the show, the number of times each horse won that class broke the tie. If the tied horses won the class the same number of times, the tie stood. (However, if any of the horses tied with the same number of championships had been the only entrant in its class, the number of overall championships was used as the tiebreaker instead of class wins. This separated the #2 and #3 horses in the 1960s/'70s Breed Division.)

To determine the Divisional Breed, Color, and Workmanship World Champions and Reserve World Champions in each decade, the top three placers (World Champion, Reserve World Champion, and third placer) in each class returned. The World Champion with the most Championships was ranked first. After a World Champion was ranked, the Reserve World Champion in its class (highlighted in light green on the lists you'll find on pages 35-37) could advance. After a Reserve World Champion was ranked, the third placer (highlighted in light blue) could advance. After all were ranked, any remaining horse who won an Overall Championship or Overall Reserve in the series (highlighted in light red) could be ranked below the third placer in its class. (Ties in the number of championships were broken by average placing in the series; if still tied after that, the number of class wins broke the tie.)

This way, horses that racked up championships under the judge of one leg of the series, but whose overall placings over the course of the six-leg series weren't high enough to make them the World Champion of their particular Breed, Color, or Workmanship class, didn't suddenly leapfrog past horses who'd placed over them overall in their class.

For example, in the 1980s Workmanship Division Top 25 on page 36, #6 Bloodbath Highway earned 8 championships, second-highest of that division...but the average of his top four placings in his workmanship class, W27 (Extreme Re-make and Repaint with Hair Mane/Tail: Trad. or Larger), had him second overall--the Reserve World Champion--in that class. He could not be ranked until class W27's World Champion (#5 Rastaman) was ranked. (Is it any wonder Bloodbath Highway looks so cranky? Sorry, big guy!)

So, with those top three horses in each class, plus any remaining that had won an Overall Championship or Overall Reserve in the series, returning to be ranked against each other, here's how many were ranked in each division:

1960s/'70s Breed: 68
1960s/'70s Color: 43
1960s/'70s Workmanship: 53
1980s Breed: 115
1980s Color: 51
1980s Workmanship: 91
1990s Breed: 115

1990s Color: 60
1990s Workmanship: 94

After those were all ranked, each decade's Overall World Champion, Reserve World Champion, and Top Ten were determined by the amount of #1 rankings among the top five ranked horses in their Breed, Color, and Workmanship divisional rankings.

If three different horses had #1 rankings, the tie was broken by number of rankings (horses with three placed above horses with two, who placed above horses with one), followed by the average from the aggregate of Breed/Color/Workmanship rankings. If again a tie, the tiebreaker was the total number of championships.

After the #1-ranked horses were placed, the remaining top five ranked horses in Breed, Color, and Workmanship were then placed by the average from the aggregate of those three rankings. Horses with three rankings placed above horses with two rankings, followed by horses with one ranking. If needed, the tiebreaker was the total number of championships.

Calculating the results took weeks of number-crunching, but the excitement of seeing the final standings emerge was well worth it!

From its ambitious scope to its time-consuming culmination, the VCMEC Online World Championships are unique in the model horse hobby--and we look forward to continuing them as long as resources, time, and sanity allow.

Thanks to all who've encouraged and supported us, to our judges for lending your expertise, and to all the entrants for letting your vintage custom stars shine!

And now, heeere are the Overall World Champions and Reserves in the VCMEC 2022-23 Online World Championships! Congratulations to all!

The VCMEC 2024-25 Online World Championships Start September 1!

Just as a model horse represents the real thing, frozen in the moment, a photo of a model horse is something timeless.

With that fraction of an instant safely preserved, either on paper or digitally, your vintage custom model horse can transcend time as well as space...and even join in a world-wide gathering to compete in the Vintage Custom Model Equine Congress (VCMEC) Online World Championships!

The VCMEC Online World Championships is an online photo show series unlike any other. Spanning 18 months, it's designed to determine the world's top vintage custom equines (any factory mass-produced plastic, china, cold-cast porcelain, metal, or factory resin model equine that was customized by a non-factory artist prior to the year 2000) through competitions focusing on conformation and breed type, color, and workmanship, judged by several respected hobbyists.

There's lots of loot for the winning, too, with commercial rosettes and trophies awarded at the end of the series! That's in addition to World Champion titles earned in extended showdowns against the best vintage custom show horses on the planet!

Legs of the 2024-25 VCMEC Online World Championship series will be held quarterly: in 2024 starting on Sept. 1 (entry deadline Aug. 30 midnight Central Standard Time) and Dec. 1, and in 2025 starting on March 1, June 1, Sept. 1, and Dec. 1.

Show results will be published right here in VCMEC Model Horse Re-View, the free online publication of the Vintage Custom Model Equine Center.

Due to the nature of this competition, new entrants will only be accepted until February 15, 2025, so don't miss out!

The 2024-25 VCMEC Online World Championships series show info packet PDF will have all the details and classlists, as well as an FAQ. It will be available starting July 15--get yours on the VCMEC Online World Championships info page of our web site, <http://www.vcmec.org>.

It can also be downloaded from the Files section of the Vintage Custom Model Equine Center Facebook page.

Treat your vintage customs to the chance to compete to be the greatest on the planet. It's time to take on the world!

This Issue's Birthday Barn!

Steel Master 50 Years Old!

CM by Jo Maness in 1974
