- i. from an HBO show called “Billions”. Two rival corporate hacks are disputing a settlement—instead of allowing Hack B to settle for paying 2 billion dollars, Hack A forces him to vow never to trade in securities again. Hack B tears up 2 bil. check and throws it in Hack A’s face.
- b. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qUysjXdBD1U>
 - i. Mad Men—a copywriter finds hes paid significantly less than another coywriter. Seeks advice on how to go about getting a raise.
- c. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OwwFd6iA6rl>
 - i. Mad Men—handling a skeptical client. Don Draper: “Have a nice day, you’re a non-believer. You’ve enlisted my expertise and rejected it, I’m not interested in that.”
- d. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=R0e8mfHzAjQ>
 - i. Mad Men—Don Draper listens to another creative director try to sell beer. He looks out the window, tuning out the pitch that he’s given a thousand times. He sees a plane coasting across the sky. Draper looks down, and leaves in the middle of the pitch. The other director continues talking, and the camera focuses on a colleague of Don’s as he smiles to himself, knowing exactly what Draper had realized. The “realization that it was all for nothing.”
 - ii. Sanitized boardroom, sanitized people talking about "stimulating imaginations" when doing precise opposite. Attempting to narrow thoughts by placing this supposed "man" who there are a million of within a neatly defined box, and Don seeing the essence of his beloved industry boiled down to a horrific science, while he begins feeling like the very man being described in the presentation before him.
- e. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jsLUidiYm0w>
 - i. Office Space—did you see the memo? Asshole boss being his passive asshole self to the guy who’s done his job just fine. Cubicle politics.
- f. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iiOEQOtBIQ> (walk us through your typical day)
 - i. Office Space—Livingston has had it. He doesn’t care anymore. Divulges to internal reviewers how much he doesn’t actually work, and how much he hates his job.
 - ii. “I have 8 different bosses...my only real motivation is not to be hassled.”
 - iii. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=af8DVIZ5LX4>
 - 1. internal reviewers are so surprised with Livingstons carefree attitude and self-confidence after he’s stopped caring that they actually RECOMMEND him for upper management to his boss.
- g. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=n3Sle_o1bcs
 - i. Office Space—“What exactly do you do here?” Customer service rep gets fired because his utility has been phased out. Gets defensive, aggressive—“I’VE GOT PEOPLE SKILLS! I’M GOOD AT DEALING WITH PEOPLE!”
- h. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Q9eSOMWRmAw>
 - i. Livingston trying to dodge his Asshole Boss on Friday afternoon so that Asshole Boss won’t keep him extra time. He fails. Asshole Boss tells him he’ll have to come for the whole weekend.

- ii. “Every single day of my life has been worse than the day before it. So every single day you see me, that’s on the worst day of my life.”
 - iii. “Is there any way you could, like, zonk me out so I don’t think I’m at work? Like, when I get home, I just think I’ve been fishing all day or something?”
- i. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2xqkpP59UgM>
 - i. Seinfeld—No Soup For You! Customer service and the arbitrary nature of the exchange of goods. Person providing service provides it on THEIR terms. Otherwise...No Soup for You!
 - 1. That is...unless you find out how to make the goods yourself, unless you can compete! Then it’s your ball game.
- j. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=l078P-5e11g>
 - i. Seinfeld—the different kinds of negotiation. How do you get what you want when that something is not in your possession? If there’s no way you can get all of it, how do you get part of it, or leave the window open for getting it later?
 - ii. “Why does nobody haggle in this country?”
- k. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fk2YRpLnmdU>
 - i. Office Space—getting up for work and the commute. Work already sucks, so why shouldn’t getting there suck too? This scene encapsulates that. All that needs to be said on the matter—sometimes, the world just doesn’t want you to live in it smoothly.
- l. https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Vsavg_S4pJg
 - i. Office Space—soft-spoken Milton is constantly pushed around by Asshole Boss. His desk gets moved to the basement, his stapler gets stolen, and he’s asked to get rid of the cockroach problem. He states his protestations, but he’s so soft spoken that Asshole Boss can just speak over him.
- m. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qlqeXSYc8nE>
 - i. Half-Baked—iconic quitting scene. “fuck YOU, fuck YOU, fuck YOU, YOU’RE cool, fuck YOU, I’M OUT!” Everyone’s wanted to do this at some point. This guy did.
- n. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7R2IJFCUBFs>
 - i. The Truman Show—having found out that his whole life is a literal reality show puppeteered by the Creator, Truman finds a way to leave it. The Creator tries to get him to stay—“You belong here, with me”—but Truman decides that his own free will is worth more. “In case I don’t see ya, Good afternoon, Good evening, and Good night!” Essentially a quitting scene if you read between the lines.
- o. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PH1XR8gyYJE>
 - i. 500 Days of Summer—Tom works at a card writing company where they try to write inspirational things on cards. Kind of like Mad Men, “we’re lying to these people, and we’re responsible...what does this even mean? People should be able to say how they really feel, not just words that people put in their mouths that don’t mean anything. I quit, there’s enough bullshit in the world without my help.”

- p. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oGLKnAvzlg4>
 - i. Joe vs. the Volcano—Joe quits his dystopian white-collar job. Clip speaks for itself.
