Let us celebrate the Resurrection of Christ

Sunday Bulletin
August 3rd 2025 – 8th Sunday after Pentecost
Feeding the Multitude

“ Let us love one another so in one mind we may confess! ”

Tone 7 Troparion (Resurrection)

By Your Cross You destroyed death.

To the thief You opened Paradise.

For the Myrrhbearers You changed weeping into joy.

And You commanded Your disciples, O Christ God, to proclaim that You are risen,// granting the world great mercy.

Tone 7 Kontakion (Resurrection)

The dominion of death can no longer hold men captive, for Christ descended, shattering and destroying its powers. Hell is bound, while the Prophets rejoice and cry:

“The Savior has come to those in faith;//

enter, you faithful, into the Resurrection!”

Tone 7 Prokeimenon (Ressurrection)

The Lord shall give strength to His people/The Lord shall bless His people with peace

V. Offer to the Lord, O you sons of God! Offer young rams to the Lord!

The Reading is from the Letter of the Holy Apostle Paul to the Corinthians 1:10-18

Now I plead with you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment. For it has been declared to me concerning you, my brethren, by those of Chloe's household, that there are contentions among you. Now I say this, that each of you says, "I am of Paul," or "I am of Apollos," or "I am of Cephas," or "I am of Christ." Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Or were you baptized in the name of Paul? I thank God that I baptized none of you except Crispus and Gaius, lest anyone should say that I had baptized in my own name. Yes, I also baptized the household of Stephanas. Besides, I do not know whether I baptized any other. For Christ did not send me to baptize, but to preach the gospel, not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of no effect. For the message of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God.

Alleluia and Verses Tone 7

V. It is good to give thanks to the Lord, to sing praises to Your Name, O Most High.

V. To declare Your mercy in the morning, and Your truth by night.

Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia

The Reading is from the Gospel according to St. Matthew 14:14-22

And when Jesus went out He saw a great multitude; and He was moved with compassion for them, and healed their sick. When it was evening, His disciples came to Him, saying, "This is a deserted place, and the hour is already late. Send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages and buy themselves food." But Jesus said to them, "They do not need to go away. You give them something to eat." And they said to Him, "We have here only five loaves and two fish." He said, "Bring them here to Me." Then He commanded the multitudes to sit down on the grass. And He took the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up to heaven, He blessed and broke and gave the loaves to the disciples; and the disciples gave to the multitudes. So they all ate and were filled, and they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments that remained. Now those who had eaten were about five thousand men, besides women and children. Immediately Jesus made His disciples get into the boat and go before Him to the other side, while He sent the multitudes away.

Communion Hymn

Praise the Lord from the heavens, praise Him in the highest! (Ps. 148:1)

Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia!

Jesus Feeding the Multitude

The story of Jesus feeding the multitude is one of the most profound illustrations of God's compassion, provision, and power working through what seems like very little. A young boy's small offering—five loaves and two fish—becomes more than enough to feed thousands when placed in the hands of Christ.

This miracle teaches us many things:

1. God works with what we have.

Jesus did not create food from thin air; instead, He used what was offered to Him, no matter how small. Likewise, in our lives, we may feel our gifts or efforts are too insignificant. But when we surrender them to Christ, He can multiply them in ways beyond our imagination.

2. Compassion moves Jesus to act.

Before performing the miracle, Jesus looked upon the crowd and “had compassion on them.” His miracles are not just displays of divine power—they are responses to human need, driven by love. God sees us, cares for us, and desires to meet both our physical and spiritual needs.

3. Jesus involves His disciples in the miracle.

He tells them, “You give them something to eat.” They are part of the process—distributing, organizing, gathering leftovers. In the same way, God often chooses to involve us in His work, even when we feel unprepared or unqualified. He stretches our faith by asking us to participate in His divine mission.

4. Nothing is wasted in God’s economy.

After everyone had eaten, Jesus told the disciples to gather the leftovers—and they collected twelve baskets full. This detail reminds us that God’s blessings are abundant, but also that He values stewardship. Nothing He gives is to be taken for granted or wasted.

5. Jesus points us to a deeper hunger.

In the Gospel of John, this miracle is followed by Jesus teaching that He is the “Bread of Life.” Physical food sustains us for a time, but only Jesus can satisfy our deepest spiritual hunger. The miracle, then, is not just about bread and fish—it is a sign pointing to Christ Himself as the source of eternal life.

Personal Reflection Questions:

- What “five loaves and two fish” do I have that God might want to use for others?
 - Do I truly believe that God can provide when I feel there is not enough?
 - How am I called to serve and feed others—not just physically, but spiritually?
 - In moments of doubt, can I trust that Christ sees, understands, and will act with compassion?
