

Movement

Since our move to Florida, I have been enjoying down time in many areas. As the years have gone by, I have started to pray and wonder about what's next in my life personally, vocationally, and spiritually. I've prayed and haven't heard or seen much in the way of answers as to what I feel ready to do so I've just been continuing to do my normal day to day, which is still a lot!

Since I've been Ubering, I can't tell you how many people have inquired as to whether or not I have a business card they can keep for when they need a lift. My answer has always been no because Ubering is not what I feel led to do forever and I didn't feel like my name should be "out there" as an Uber driver when it's not where I see myself in the near future.

Just recently, a friend of mine pushed me to create a business card and soon after our discussion I got an email for a great deal on 100 business cards so I decided to start the process. This friend of mine encouraged me to put on the business card what I felt I wanted to do and to not limit myself to one specific thing. Well... as soon as I ordered the business cards within a couple of days, before I even had them, I met the CEO of a non-profit organization here in the county where I live AND I was asked by a friend to help with some administration work for their company.

When I was reflecting today as I got the business cards in the mail, it's like I could hear the voice of the Lord telling me that faith without works is dead. I know this... I've heard it a thousand times, but somehow, it seems that through the different phases of life, faith has either become harder and/or I've started to view it differently.

Movement friends... the Lord can move mountains when it comes to our lack, yes – but HOW MUCH MORE can He work when we show Him that we desire to still move in the direction WITH HIM.

Scriptures to remember:

2 Corinthians 5:7 - for we walk by faith, not by sight.

James 2:24 - You see that a person is justified by works and not by faith alone.

James 2:17 - So also faith by itself, if it does not have works, is dead.
