

Terms of Use, and Privacy Policy

WE APPRECIATE AND HONOR OUR RELATIONSHIP WITH MEMBERS

Preamble

This document is meant to inform you, the interested entity, of our policies and procedures in doing business. Here you will find specific information about the 3rd parties we work with, how we use their services to make ours as great as possible, and what they get in return. You will also find important information about Rhapsodic Global, how we intend to serve the public, how we intend to grow and support the communities we work with, as well as how our network is structured.

It is important to note that by using our website you are agreeing that you have read and understood this contract, and that you agree to be bound by the terms herein, that you have been given the necessary information needed to safely use our services.

Rhapsodic Global is an independent entity, with a parenting LLC, that provides a service to its connections and their communities. The service is Advertising and Material Distribution, beyond those two things we aim to help organize events and expand upon our goals in order to progress our Mission.

OUR MISSION:

To promote and connect the interest of individual pursuits under a common goal and philosophy, to see each other succeed, we're raising value(s) in the community and our lives work together.

DEFINITIONS:

We have included some definitions, specific to our services, in order to retain clarity and readability within this contract.

“Productive Interest” or “Interest” is to be defined as any service(s), interest, events, hobbies, arts, music, products, blogs, websites, etc. created and uploaded to and promoted on our website.

A “Connection” is defined as any Website or Custom Webpage being promoted specifically on our homepage, and throughout our website, because our “Connections” make up our content at Rhapsodic Global.

IMPORTANT: We want people to know they are part of something when they join our network; but since we are not creating a partnership with every person we advertise, we are using the term “Connection” to describe the entities we advertise, whom all conduct their own business separately.

Terms of Use

A connection with Rhapsodic Global IS NOT a membership with Rhapsodic Global's parenting LLC, nor does a connection with Rhapsodic Global create a partnership with Rhapsodic Global, the parenting LLC, or any 3rd party associated with either of those entities.

Becoming a Rhapsodic Global "Connection" allows us the right to advertise your productive interest on our website and social networking platforms, and by word of mouth when appropriate. We may also set up specific campaigns, by request and/or agreement with the Connections, to advertise interest using other methods we determine together on a case by case basis.

Rhapsodic Global agrees that you retain ownership of any intellectual property rights that you hold in content that you submit to us, Rhapsodic Global has no intention of owning any content uploaded by any of our Connections or Guest. Connections and Guest also agree to only upload content that is owned by them, and not to infringe on anyone's copyrights or intellectual property. Our Connections and Guest are completely responsible for the content they upload to our website, as well as to any of the 3rd party forums or widgets on our website.

The opinions expressed by our Connections do not reflect the opinions of Rhapsodic Global or its parenting LLC, nor does any single Connections opinion reflect the opinions of other Connections. The opinions of Rhapsodic Global do not reflect the opinion of any of our Connections.

Our Connections are not employed by Rhapsodic Global, or its parenting LLC, unless otherwise agreed upon and clearly documented. Being said that our Connections are completely responsible for how they conduct their own business, and they assume all consequences in accordance with the laws of whichever state or jurisdiction they conduct their business.

Our Connections do not own any content on the Rhapsodic Global website, other than what they have uploaded or sent to us themselves to be advertised. Our Connections and Guest agree not to use any of our Logo's, Gimmicks, Platforms, or Services as their own. Re-Selling or accepting payment from an individual for a Connection to Rhapsodic Global, as a 3rd party is not permitted.

*This does not mean that a Connection cannot promote their friends and network; as long as they do not copy, plagiarize, or otherwise duplicate Rhapsodic Global and/or our services, we support our Connections interest to promote their partners. We hope that people will want to promote Rhapsodic Global as well.

Terms of Use

If you should choose to use our website, or contact any of the Connections on our website, please use common sense. This also applies when someone contacts you claiming that they discovered your productive interest on our website. Always make wise decisions about who you do business with, and never put yourself or others well-being at risk for any reason at all.

Do not break the law; Rhapsodic Global and its parenting LLC are never liable for any damages or charges incurred by any of the Connections. As stated in the Terms of Use, our Connections are completely responsible for the consequences of their own actions. Being said that anyone who wishes to do business with any of our Connections should also take full discretion in their own best judgement, and consider all consequences of their own actions.

Rhapsodic Global does review each request before adding Connections to the website, we get to know our Connections through a number of different mediums including conversation, and review of their interest. Anyone who wishes to join our meetings or get involved with our events is invited. We will always keep it in our best interest to share the interest of all who feel passionately about what they do, but we also reserve the right to refuse our services to anyone for any reason we determine necessary, at that time.

Rhapsodic Global does not typically check the copyright status of the content uploaded by our Connections and Guest. We do not own the content uploaded to our website, we advertise and promote our Connections, but their content is not our content and we are not responsible for it.

All Connections, Guest, and Clients agree that Rhapsodic Global holds indemnity in any and all cases resulting from the use of our website services and/or any of the Productive Interest it promotes, including all 3rd party services being used on our website. Please use caution when practicing general business, when trying new things, and when interacting with others. Though we encourage productive interest, we take no liability to the result of your actions when pursuing any productive interest. Please view our website at your own discretion; our intent is to inspire innovation and collaboration but we cannot be held responsible for the decisions people make on their own behalf.

All Connections, Guest, and Clients agree that Rhapsodic Global holds indemnity at their events, and is not liable for any damages, theft, loss, injury, or destruction of personal property.

Rhapsodic Global will always do everything to the best of its ability to ensure that its activities are safe, and legally correct. We ask that anyone with any questions or concerns contact us, we will always be happy to clear up any miscommunications or disputes to the best of our ability. We have no intention of breaking any laws, practicing negligence, or infringing on the rights of those in our network.

Privacy Policy

Rhapsodic Global has no intention of selling or sharing the information of our site visitors, Connections, or their Clients. We receive certain data about our site traffic related to how much and where it is coming from, but we do not get detailed info beyond that. We may use data about where our visitors are from to discover new areas of interest, but we see no reason to sell that information to 3rd parties. The data we receive at Rhapsodic Global has no traceable connection to the individual users, and only represents a broad reference to our site activity. There is no personally identifiable information that we collect ourselves, and we do not intend on collecting that type of information.

We use 3rd parties for certain services such as forums and hosting, and cannot be responsible for what they do with the information they receive. They receive information when users submit it to them via the use of their services. People most typically use 3rd party services on our website when they post in a forum or interact with another social network's widget.

We do our best at Rhapsodic Global to use services from 3rd parties which do not sell the information of our site visitors, and only services which do not infringe on the Privacy of our members and visitors. Unfortunately, resources are limited in that realm and the tools some companies provide are simply too useful to disregard.

The paragraph above is declaring that if you post in a Facebook feed on our website, or some other website widget such as Soundcloud, Youtube, etc, please understand that you are interacting with their site and they can do what they want with that information. Most Social Websites on the internet have documentation referring to their use of visitor information. We will not be posting our 3rd party's "terms of service" on our website, but we encourage our visitors to become savvy of common practices being utilized online.

The 3rd parties we do business with may change from time to time. If we use a 3rd party service for a new or existing feature on our website, please check to see their Terms of Service. Remember that 3rd parties usually withhold the right to change their Terms of Service. We may also make changes to our own Terms of Service without notifying anyone, but will do our best to notify all of our Members and Newsletter Recipients, Site Visitors, Etc.

Thank you for trusting Rhapsodic Global as a source for inspiration, to share your productive interest, and as a place to network with other inspired people. We wish everyone the best in their pursuits and endeavors. Remember you can opt out at any time by filling out a simple form located though a link called "Unsubscribe" which can be found at the bottom of the website.
