OVERVIEW

All personnel performing analyses of public drinking water in a certified laboratory must be certified by the State of Ohio Environmental Protection Agency (OEPA). The Microbiological Water Testing Course is the only course offered by the Ohio EPA for those seeking training for bacteriological examination of drinking water in accordance to the methodologies approved by Ohio EPA. Colilert 18 has been added to the MMO-MUG course.

PREREQUISITES

This is a hands-on training course. Students should have basic laboratory skills. Although the course is designed for those needing training for certification, enrollment is open to anyone who desires this type of training. Class size is limited and OTCO and OEPA reserve the right to give preference to those required to attend the training course for certification requirements.

INSTRUCTORS

Instructors for the Ohio EPA Microbiological Water Testing Course, are laboratory personnel certified by the Ohio EPA for water microbiological determination and have held certification for a minimum of three consecutive years.

The course is offered under the technical supervision of Ohio EPA personnel. This measure is to insure the course will be consistent with the requirements set forth by the Ohio EPA.

A survey officer from the Ohio EPA will be attending on the last day of the course.
