

ECLIPSE OF THE CROSS

ASTRONOMICAL PROPERTIES OF THE STRUGGLE OF THE SEEDS

The purpose of this illustration is to show the Astronomical Alignments that happened during the time Jesus was on the Cross of Calvary. In fact it is the case that the actual Crucifixion date was on Passover in April 14, 32 AD, what is unique is that there was a Planetary Alignment juxtaposed to the Cross looking directly North in front of the site. This is the case if one looked just over the Mount Moriah at High-Noon when 3-Hour Solar Eclipse occurred. This is the instance when the whole Earth was covered by Darkness. The Astronomical Sign was of Draco with the Foot of Hercules at its Head, as if to 'crush' it. This depiction is reminiscent of the Genesis 3:15 contention between the Seed of the Woman, which was and is Jesus and the Seed of the Serpent, Lucifer ultimately through the agent and host of the coming AntiChrist.

One very interesting aspect of the Astronomical Arrangement of the Stars and Constellations is that the Draco outline comprises that of a dimension that approximates the phi ratio proportions. The Fibonacci Spiral is used for emphases that corresponds to the Star Thuban.

The Crucifixion Rendition illustrated is based on the Archeological Research and work of Ryan Wyatt. This purported site is itself in phi ratio in terms of distance from the Garden Tomb and the Skull Façade.

Jesus is The Seed of the Woman That crushed the Head of the Serpent. But the Serpent, Lucifer at the Cross of Calvary stung the heel of Jesus. Ingeniously, Jesus foiled the 'Trap' set by Satan in that by the Power of Death, Jesus used Death to conquer Death.

According to Wyatt, the Term of Offense or 'Crime' of Jesus was also advertised on boards that were edged within the ledge of the pinnacle of Mount Moriah.
