

CYDONIA COSMIC CONFLICT

Based on Google Mars satellite survey, the entire Cydonia, Mars environs appears to correspond, topographically as to depict a lion figure. This lion or 'Leo' is being confronted or contested by a Serpent, Hydra. This motif could be as a result of Pareidolia but this precise motif is seen depicted in numerous ancient civilization on Earth since recorded history. It would suggest that the Biblical account of the Cosmic Christ contending with a Serpent type of antagonist is primordial and before Humanity was created.
