Mitchell

10.6 lbs

The Original vibration isolator (previously called Film-Stuff), isolates the SRH-3 or any Mitchell mount style remote head from the mounting structure, and removes any high frequency vibrations. The isolator easily flips from upright to suspended use, and is usable on camera cranes, ATV's, dollies etc. We have worked with Arri and Foma Systems to customize this isolator for use with the Arri SRH-3 and it works so well that they had to copy it. The vibration isolator is designed to be a true Isodamp, which both isolated and dampens unwanted motion. Many of the spring based isolators only isolate, they do not dampen any motion. Our isolator also uses a proprietary design, which allows vertical movement, angular movement in roll and tilt, but keeps pan solid. We also have adjustability for how much linear movement is acceptable. 10 lb 6 oz, this unit can be supplied with standard Mitchell or with Metric Threaded Boss.
