The Poké Stops Here Capture a Pokémon at Corky's Pest Control

Corky's Pest Control, San Marcos

San Diego, CA, July 15, 2016 – Last week, the Pokémon Company launched its Pokémon GO reality mobile phone game app and Corky's Pest Control is a Pokéstop in the game. Pokémon GO is where Pokémon meets GeoCaching. It uses new technology called augmented reality or A.R. combining digital technology including location tracking and cameras with the real physical world. Pokémon game players, known as trainers, must go outside and capture creatures to gain points. The locations for San Diego developed by Redditors include Corky's headquarters as one of the destinations. According to The San Diego Union-Tribune, Pokémon GO is the most downloaded app in iTunes and the Google Play stores.

If pests get in your way when you're trying to catch 'em all, be sure to contact Corky's at 1-800-901-1102. For information on pest control and how to prevent pests from invading your home or business, Corky's Pest Control has it covered at www.corkypest.com.
